

You'll never know how happy I was for you when I received your letter about your husband. It couldn't have arrived at a better time. It was Sunday morning and Johnny's mother was here. I could hardly open the letter. I cried and laughed all at once. We were so happy to hear your good news. I can just imagine how you felt. I wonder what I'll do when I hear from Johnny. And how I pray it will be soon.

Tomorrow is Johnny's birthday. He'll be twenty years old. Or should I say young.

Gee, I get goose pimples just thinking of your receiving that cable gram. Thank you ever so much for writing to me as soon as you found out about the crew. It made me sad, but yet happy.

Did you hear that William Slenker is in France? His mother received a cable from him.

Well, I'll have to close now, but will write again later.
Thank you once again.
Love
